Carver High School

Readers! Everyone is still talking about the Little Theater's, "Good Grandma, Gran ma."Grandma, played by Donald Doss, took the cake for a boy made up a dear, anticquated old lady. Henry, played by Charles Jeffries, had a time tryng to keep "Grandma's" identity concealed. P-Sam, played by Eugene Harris, was exceptionally good in his side-splitting antics. Gertrude Mickle, as Mrs. Lennox; Lelia Mozee, as Delicia, brought many comments. Jacqueline Lawing as Helen; Ollie Ferguson as Cecile; Norrald Watkins and Curtis Whitted as police investigators, showing their acting ability. The play was under the direction of Mrs. Harriett James.The full evening's entertainment before a capacity audience, will be long remembered.

The baseball team practiced at the ball park Tuesday. From all indications, the team will be good this year. The girl's team is to start their tournament next week.

The Seniors are really trying their hardest to get commencement activities in shape. The Class Yells, we hear them rehearsing, their Class Night, should be good.

We are sorry Mr. James Clay is out this week.

The work on our new school is really progressing. It's quite an inspiration to stand and watch the workmen in their highly skilled construction. It is wonderful what modern building consists of.

We are looking for the "Carver Herald" this Monday, coming from the printers.

Until next week, we close with the idea:
"Voyagers on life's sea:-

To yourself be true,
And whate'er your lot may be,
Paddle your own canoe."

Negro Extension News

ADULT: With reference to the 100 bushel corn contest (hybrid only), we have ten contestants who are shooting at 100 bushel yields or more. This year there is an added incentive in addition to the certificate awarded by the state. The Appomattox Hardware Co. has agreed to underwrite a banquet in honor of the colored farmers participating in this contest. The contestants are: George Green, George Wooding, Sam Jones (last year's only and first colored farmer to reach the goal), Leonard Walker, Colonel Walker, Roosevelt Forbes, Charlie Hunter, Mace Lewis, Charles Marshall and Lloyd Forest.

We are proud of the progress being made, by the large number of Negro farmers in Appomattox County. They have better crop yields, livestock, better fencing, pasture, home site and improved general farm appearance. Watch for reports in this column, of the yields this fall.

News Around Town

By Mrs. Calvin Robinson

Youngest fisherman: Barry Drew, who will be three years old August 25, broke the record Tuesday afternoon. He accompanied his grandfather, J. H. Lucado, down to Mr. Gus Torrence's lake for an outing. Barry caught four fish—haven't heard from Mr. Lucado—could it be his grandson beat him fishing?

This morning I was up bright and early—as were nearly fifty others around town, to gather at the bus terminal to see three of our fine boys off for the Army. Billy Guill, Fred Lawson and Homer Chandler made up the trio due to be wearing uniform by now. They left on the 7:30 bus. Good luck, soldiers!

Here's one for "Believe It or Not"— the lock on our front door at the office had to be replaced this week. The hardware sent up a man to install a new one, and the lock itself and the keys have my name "Earle" engraved on them. They came that way.

Crawford Davidson, who has been playing baseball in Beaumont, Texas spent several days here this week with his wife, and left last night to report to the Norfolk Tars of the Piedmont League. We are glad Crawford is back in Virginia, and wish he could play here.

Have you visited the Confederate Cemetery recently? If you haven't I suggest that you drive down this week-end—we went down there last night and found a lovely Rhododendron in full bloom—pink with a cast of lavender. It's a picture within itself—and the grounds are lovely, too.

Here's a joke on myself: a gentleman was in our office one day this week and during the conversation remarked that he had to "sow corn." I replied, "So have I.' In surprise he asked me what I had said, and I declared that I had two of the worst. I thought he had said, "I have a SORE CORN!" He had a big laugh as he added, "Lady, I'm talking about corn to plant!"

Do not forget Mothers Day this Sunday, May 13th. May I suggest that you visit some of our fine local stores for a gift, and the local flower shop for flowers. Wear a flower Sunday!

Congratulations to William C. Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Johnston, who was recently elected vice-president of the Business Club at Lynchburg College. This is one of the largest and most active clubs on the campus.

Lt. Governor L. Preston Collins, of Marion, spent Tuesday night with Congressman and Mrs. Watkins M. Abbitt. Robert Lane Anderson, owner and publisher of the Smyth County News at Marion, was a luncheon guest Tuesday of the Abbitts.

Friends are glad to hear that Mrs. W. W. O'Brien has returned home from the hospital and is doing fine. Mrs. Annie Burrus, of Lynchburg is with her for several weeks.

Pvt. Richard Wingfield, who has been home forseveral days is now at Fort Sill, Okla.

Pvt. Dan Lewis, of Fort Jackson, S. C. has been visiting his parents for several days.

Home Agent's Notes

By Mrs. B. G. Anderson

The old saying, "variety is the spice of life," is as true in foods as anything else. The club leaders did a wonderful job in giving yeast bread demonstrations in April. They especially enjoyed making Sally Lunn. The recipe used:

Two cups scalded milk
One yeast cake
Two-thirds cup butter
Three eggs
Two teaspoons salt
Six cups flour
One-fourth cup sugar

Scald milk, add fat salt and sugar. When luke warm add yeast and beaten eggs. Beat well until smooth. Let rise to double in bulk. Put in pans or cake mold. Let rise and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 40 to 50 minutes.

Mrs. W. M. Black, of Pamplin Club tells me her mother used to make Sally Lunn using 1-2-3-4 cake recipe, but leaving out the sugar. It's delicious, too.

On the subject of breads, Mrs. Percy Carter says that she never uses any other recipe for batter bread (corn) than the one demonstrated by the Rocks II. D. C. leaders. Recipe: fluffy batter bread—

One cup butter milk
One cup sweet milk
Two eggs
Two tablespoons melted butter
One-third cup corn meal sifted with 1-2 teaspoon soda, 2 teaspoons baking powder and 1-2 teaspoon of salt.

Beat eggs with the sweet and butter milk. Melt butter in pan bread is to be baked in. Have oven hot before adding dry ingredients to liquids. Pour batter into hot greased pan. Put at once into hot oven (375 degrees) and bake until firm in center.
